

Federal Capabilities Statement

LogicMark is a manufacturer of Personal Emergency Response Systems whose dedicated government sales purchasing team has built a solid reputation by successfully providing PERS devices and customer service support to various government agencies for years.

Company Overview

LogicMark's personal emergency response systems (PERS) help keep various populations in the U.S. connected, secure and healthy.

Specifically, LogicMark has worked with the U.S. Department of Veterans' Affairs for more than 17 years, providing over 800,000 devices that have helped the agency provide benefits and services to veterans in a cost-effective manner.

GSA schedule pricing guarantees that our prices are the best available, and we also provide discounted prices on volume orders.

Ordering is simple, streamlined and meets all applicable regulations and competition requirements.
